Movement for a State Board of Arbitration Is Fairly Started.

Commercial Club's Committee Believes the Massachusetts Statute the Best-Other Work of the Directors.

The Commercial Club's standing committee on arrangements yesterday reported to the directors of the club a method for going about the subject of procuring a State Board of Arbitration. It had held two meetings to consider the matter. The committee first set for itself the work of answering the following propositions: First, is there a mischief in the disagreements between employers and employes which calls for remedy; second, does arbitration of any kind furnish a remedy, and if so, what form of arbitration is effective; third, what plan of consideration of the question by the club shall this committee recommend? At the second meeting, on Friday. March 25, the first of these questions was answered in the affirmative. In answer to the second question, a reso-lution had been unanimously approved by the committee to the effect that while no form of arbitration has been a complete remedy for labor disagreements, the most effective plan of arbitration of labor disputes is that which provides for a State board of conciliation and arbitration, havboard of conciliation and arbitration, having similar powers and duties to those of the Massachusetts State Board of Arbitration, and recommending that upon such boards shall also be imposed the duty of encouraging the formation of local and trades boards of arbitration, with the view of having labor disputes settled, so far as may be practicable, by such local and trades boards of arbitration.

In response to the third question a resolution was unanimously adopted that the plan of consideration of the question of arbitration by the Commercial Club be as follows: That a special committee be appointed by the directors to investigate the subject of a State board of arbitration. That, pending the report of such special committee, the directors invite prominent committee, the directors invite prominent writers, or others having experiences on the subject of labor arbitration, to address the club, having as many as four addresses, if possible; that, when the special committee has reported a draft of a statute, the directors lay such draft with their recommendations before the club for consideration, and if the club shall determine that this statute should be presented to the Legislature for enactment, that the secretary be instructed to send printed copies of the law to all the trade-unions in the State, to all associations of employes, the State, to all associations of employes, and to leading employers of the State, ask-ing them to submit to the club, in writing, ing them to submit to the club, in writing, their views of the proposed statute.

Remarks by President Lilly led to the adoption of a motion receiving the report, and authorizing the president to appoint a committee of five, in conjunction with a Central Labor Union committee of the same number, to meet and draft a bill for a statute. The bill is then to be submitted to the club and the labor unions, after the manner of dealing with the city charter. The unions and employers of labor will be asked to give their views on the bill. The unions and employers of labor will be asked to give their views on the bill. The committee was given power to act as to the propriety of following the suggestions of methods in the report.

The directors yesterday granted O. W. Crawford, representing the National Realestate Exchange, an opportunity to address the board upon the subject of establishing an exchange in this city. His investigation of the field in this city, he said, had convinced him that the Commercial Club covered it so thoroughly that there was little room for an exchange outside of the club. He suggested that the exchange be incorporated with it as a committee. In speaking of the club Mr. Crawford said its fame had extended beyond the borders of the State. The business men of Houston, Tex., had organized on the same plan, and he himself, as secretary of it, had familiarized the members with the work to be done by frequent reference to the club of Indianapolis, after which their own was modeled. He spoke highly of the annual reports.

Colonel Lilly, Secretary Fortune and others spoke on the question. Mr. Hawkins moved that a committee of five be appointed to consider the subject the mercial Club building were received from the Phænix Fire-proofing Company of Chicago, at $3,490.12 for the partitions and column coverings; from Tom Paige, Cleveland, upon the whole contract, $10.975, and $791 for additional floor arches; Pittsburg Terra Cotta Company, $10.092.44; Pioneer Fire-proofing Company, Chicago, $11.790; Empire Fire-proof Company, Pittsburg, $10,394.81. The board did not award the contract, owing to a desire to compare the various bids further.

FOR AN AKT INSTITUTE.

Indianapolis Association Looking for a Site-Annual Meeting Yesterday.

The chances are that in the near future Indianapolis will have a flourishing art museum or institute in a permanent building of its own. This was the dream of the founders of the Art Association, and they have steadily worked to that end until the association has now accumulated money enough to warrant it in purchasing grounds and figuring upon plans for the institute building. It is the hope that a site may be found near the center of the city, but somewhat retired from the business thoroughfares.

The annual meeting of the association was held yesterday afternoon. Rev. N. A. Hyde, president, and Mrs. Addison C. Harris, secretary, performed the duties of those offices. Mr. Hyde made a few remarks in which he reviewed the work of the year which he reviewed the work of the year and said the history of the association during the past year has been highly gratifying to all, all things considered. The association bought two pictures, the "Christopher Siy," by Loomis, and "The Letter" by McCune. The programme for the minor exhibits was mostly carried out. The Art Association belongs to the Indiana Union of Literary Clubs, which will meet in Lafayette. The president, Mrs. Smart, desires representatives of the association desires representatives of the association and a paper on "Women in Art and Inven-tion." Mrs. J. R. Hussey will prepare the paper and attend, and Mrs. T. C. Day will be the other representative. "In selecting a site for a museum," said Dr. Hyde, "we find we cannot go on without new articles of incorporation. We have articles, but they are not operative.

We feel the need of a new home, and should stand on a solid basis and have articles which will cover all legal points."

Mrs. Harris then read the secretary's re-Mrs. Harris then read the secretary's report. The report stated briefly that a museum should be reserved for art purposes, and that Mr. Coffin, Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Blackledge, Mr. Mason and Mrs. Taibott constituted the committee. The donation of "The Little Devotee," by Mrs. Ritzinger, Mrs. Hyde, Messrs, Allen Fletcher and Stoughton Fletcher, was acknowledged. The conservation of the acknowledged. The co-operation of the association had been asked to secure free entrance into the country of works of art.
The announcement was made that Mr. J.
Harrison Mills would have charge of the annual exhibit again this year, and provide one hundred oils and fifty water-colors. The exhibition will open Tuesday night to members for a first view, and remain open four weeks. Mrs. Hussey read her itemized report as treasurer. The cash transactions for the year amounted to $1,328.65. The receipts were $1,829.75 and expenses $1,729.89, which left a balance of $99.86. The Dramatic Club owes $62.81 which, however, is to be used toward the purchase of a picture from this year's exhibit. The association owns twelve pictures, valued at $6,395 and some miscellaneous articles which raise the amount to $6,583.27. Both reports were accepted. By request, Mrs. Harris read the contract with Mr. Mills.

In adopting the new articles of incorporation the chief difference between them and the old is the object of the association. set forth in Article 1. The new name is "Art Association of Indianapolis, Indiana."

the study of the literature of to establish and maintain an institution for instruction in the various branches of art and buy and sell works of art. After slight discussion they were adopted in toto; and the formalities of were adopted in toto; and the formalities of signing, recording and voting the transfer of the members and all property of the old association into the new was gone through. The election of seven directors resulted in the selection of Mrs. G. F. Adams, Mr. W. H. Talbott, Mrs. J. R. Hussey, Mrs. E. B. McOnat, Mr. Carl Lieber, Mr. J. M. Bowles and Mrs. Addison Bybee, for three years. The other directors are: Mr. Hyde, Mrs. E. F. Hodges, Mrs. T. L. Sewall, Mrs. J. C. Wright, Mrs. J. M. Bradshaw, Mrs. F. H. Blackledge, Mr. W. F. Taylor, whose term expires in 1893, and Mrs. J. F. Pratt, Mrs. W. J. Richards, Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Mrs. A. B. Mansur, Mrs. Franklin Landers, Mr. A. L. Mason and Mr. C. E. Coffin in 1894.

DR. CLEVELAND RESIGNS.

Meridian-Street Church to Lose its Pastor-Some Friction in the Church.

For a day or two the rumor has been going about that Dr. Cleveland intended to resign the pastorate of Meridian-street M. E. Church. It was said that, while four-fifths of the congregation are fast friends and stanch supporters of the Doctor, a small but active number are not well disposed to his classic utterances. It is further said that a misunderstanding, or friction, or whatever it is, began some months ago when the Doctor advocated certain changes in the church building, which would result in making a church parlor into which the young people could gather, his design being to do away with some of the chilling temperature which other Methodist congregations have attributed to Meridian. To make the required change, it would have been necessary to remove a spiral stairway, and this rem oval was looked upon by one or two of the older members as little short of sacrilege. They worked themselves up to quite a frenzy over this, and gathered about them a number of sympathetic persons who, after vainly endeavoring to pacify them, consented to join them, as they did not wish these well-meaning, elderly persons to do themselves a mischief.

The Doctor, it is said, has for some time contemplated sending in his resignation. Two months ago, as it has leaked out, he did send his resignation to Bishop Vincent, to be acted upon at the General Conference at its meeting at Omaha, and yesterday his resignation was placed in the hands of Dr. Carey, of the church committee, and will by this committee be presented to the congregation. The resignation is to take effect in September, the end of the Doctor's pastoral year. pastoral year.

Plymouth Church people, who are now reaching out for a pastor, might perhaps find one quite to their liking in the Doctor, find one quite to their liking in the Doctor, who is about to sever his connection with the church over the way. In the present situation at Meridian-street Church it is not unlikely that four-lifths of that congregation would follow the Doctor to Plymouth. This following would not only strengthen Plymouth in numbers, but in a financial way, where that progressive church most needs help. Dr. Cleveland has been pastor at Meridian-street for a longer term than is usually accorded to ministers at that church, where, in the past fifteen or twenty years, the changes in pastors have been numerous.

Social Turnverein's Annual.

The Social Turnverein of this city was never in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. The people are taking great interest in its gymnastic society. The society may feel justly proud of its history for the last forty years, and its membership in the American Turnerbund. The annual exhibition, to be given in Tomlinson Hall next Monday night, will show a decided progress since last year. Mr. Osterheld, the young leader, was educated during the time the Turnerbund Seminary was in this city, and is a firstclass teacher.

Concert To-Night. The Bernhard Listemann Concert Company, of Boston, composed of seven members, each a soloist, will give an entertainment at Plymouth Church to-night. The programme is one of peculiar merit, and will be rendered by artists who will appreciate the attendance of a critical audience. This occasion will furnish an opportunity to hear the highest classical music by artists whose reputation as musicians has long been considered of the highest order. Secure seats at Baldwin's.

Afflicted Three Years by Dreadful Skin and Blood Disease, With Intense Pain and Loss of Hair.

All Other Remedies Fail. Relieved Instantly and Cured in Four Weeks by the Cuticura Remedles.

I have a few words to say regarding the Cuticura Remedies. They have cured me in four weeks' time from a Skin and Blood Disease which have had for over three years. At certain times my skin would be very sore, and always kept cracking and peeling off in white scales. In cold weather my face was one maks of scales. When in the cold air the pain was intense; it would almost bring tears to my eyes, and my blood also being in a poor condition, with a loss of hair. I have tried every known remedy that was recommended to me, but it was of no use, and gave me very little benefit, So hearing of your Cuticura Remedies, I concluded to give them a trial. The first application gave almost instant relief. In a few weeks' time I found myself cured, and I am thankful for what they have done for me. Your Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to those who may have the opportunity to use them. I can recommend them to any one.

P. O. Box 68 Sterling, Kan., July 12, 1891. THE ATHLOPHOROS CO., New Haven, Conn.: Sirs-I take the liberty to address you upon a subject which I believe will interest you.

First, I wish to state that I have received great benefit from the use of your valuable preparation for rheumatism. I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism the 7th of January, 1891. I was under the physician's care for four weeks, taking from eight to twelve strong doses of stuff daily. I grew worse under the treatment and finally discharged my physician and then commenced to experiment with everything that I could hear of that would care the disease. I could find nothing that would relieve me of the terrible pain from which I was suffering. I happened to see your advertisement in the Topeka "Capital" and sent at once to our druggist and procured a bottle of Ath-lo-pho-ros. At the time I was lying in bed, my joints swollen, and I was unable to move myself. In three days after commencing to take your medicine I was able to walk about my room; the swelling all left my limbs and I improved rapidly-gaining in health and strength, and am at present attending to my farm work. Sometimes I feel a little stiff and sore, but a few doses of your medicine drives it away. I think I will fully recover my health in due time. Have never had any swelling of the joints since I began to take the medicine. Now my object in writing to you is to thank you for what I feel you have done for me.

Yours respectfully, W. I. CARTER. Sold by all druggists, $1 per bottle; six bottles for $5. Beautiful picture free, postpaid, to any one who
